MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1895.

ONE CENT.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notions" free any more than a merchant can lose over his counter the gift of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon The Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Shoppers, resolutions, favors, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, etc. The Ledger will charge five cents a line, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however, is a concession.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Local in The Ledger is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local inserted in the paper. "If I fail you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. "But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—of course—the bill is still due. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy followed probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "five paper" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the irritation will be pleasant all around.

"All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day."

How to Vote!

There are a goodly number of loyal Republicans who will on Tuesday next cast their votes for Thomas B. Harrison, a Christian gentleman who is the Democratic candidate for Senator from Mason and Lewis counties, in preference to J. D. Rummans the so-called Republican nominee.

That these voters may act intelligently, we give below the form of ballot that will accomplish their wishes.

Put the X right under the Log Cabin, and then run your eye down the Democratic ticket until you come to the name of Thomas B. Harrison, and PUT THE X IN THE SQUARE RIGHT AFTER MR. HARRISON'S NAME, as shown below:

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.	REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NEVER SUCH TESTIMONIALS.

What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's Celery Compound, the world's great remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any drugstore in any city or in any country town. One can get a healthier, healthier appetite, purify the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and tissues by taking Paine's Celery Compound. It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it. Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy. The letters are never "doctored." Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest but obscure men are never said to be "honorable." Every-day kind of men who have been made well by Paine's Celery Compound are never paraded before the public as "The Great Mr. So-and-So," or "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. This and That." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases. When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin of New York, or Mr. Carille's Private Secretary, or Edmund Russell, or Mayor Melhans of Montreal, or Rev. Father Ouellet, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gilliam of Judge, or Ida Lewis, or ex Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound gladly give such unsolicited testimonials to the public press. But one person's health is as valuable as another's, and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon such person's official standing. The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called "the plain people." It is they whom Paine's Celery Compound has most benefited. Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pierce of Melette, South Dakota: "I used Paine's Celery Compound first for rheumatism, and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble, and have received very much benefit from its use, and consider it one of the best remedies. Mr. A. Cady's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it that I am not acquainted with, but one other lady, Mrs. Oudell, used it for nervousness, and it made her well." There is the testimony of thousands. Paine's Celery Compound makes people well!

Don't fail to see the Trimmed Millinery at Mrs. L. V. Davis's. The Frank Owens Hardware Co. are headquarters for all kinds of ammunition. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pary now occupy their new home on Fourth street, between Limestone and Market. Mr. George A. Pepper, 24, Flemingsburg, and Miss Osa Biddle, 16, same place, were married Thursday. "Rev." R. W. Christian, the Negro dead-beat, was arrested at Princeton for stealing money from a restaurant keeper. A last year's straw stack on Travis Kendall's farm near Elizaville was set on fire because of the logs that had been sleeping in it dying of cholera. The ladies of the Methodist Church, South, at Flemingsburg will hold a "Mother Goose" bazaar and "Gypsy" Entertainment during the Christmas holidays. The Bourbon News says: "The progressive spirit of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad is evidenced by the announcement that all will carry weather signals as soon as the rockets and flags shall be furnished by the Weather Bureau." On the L. & N. train to this city Wednesday forenoon Mr. John Everett picked up a lady's pocket-book from one of the seats at Clinton Station. He returned it to him. He opened it and found it to contain over $50 in money, a New York draft for $35, he believed, and a check on Carlsle Bank for $225 in favor of Mrs. Maria Vinton, and also a return ticket from Miller Station to Millersburg. The Conductor remembered the old lady getting off at Miller, and returned to her the pocket-book and its contents. KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited extension of slavery, believing that it would tend to the ruin of the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver currency, provided always that a dollar in one form is made precisely as valuable as a dollar in the other.

We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus ensuring good wages to the laborer and a home market for our produce; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity. We believe that such a system will defray the Government expenses, gradually liquidate all our debts, restore public confidence and relieve the people from the undue exactions and oppressions of the tariff. In view of the past financial history of the Democratic party, its opposition to the old tariff system and its refusal to make any effort to reform the tariff, we believe that the Republican party can be more safely trusted to regulate the financial system of the Nation.

We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in every part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than powerful monarchies.

October's Treasury deficit will be about $2,000,000 larger than Treasury estimates at the last of the month. It now aggregates $7,314,431.06 for the month, $17,199,089.17 for the fiscal year, and $129,477,890.81 for the Cleveland Administration.

On Thursday, the last day for collection of city taxes, Treasurer Fitzgerald took in $4,150.

Three boats will be let into the water of the Marine Way at Cincinnati as soon as the rains to the Boston are completed—the Boston, State of Kansas and Virginia.

Chilo has a remarkable distinction to enjoy that of being the only open port for navigation in this part of the country. And the natty little steamer J. C. Hopkins especially shares in such distinction as being the only craft able to navigate the unpredicably low Ohio. While the Hopkins does not employ stiffs she has the ability to run in the present stage of water, making her trips with surprising regularity.

Commercial Gazette—"The plans of the Mail Line Company have been changed with regard to a boat in the Louisville trade to take the place of the Big Sandy. It has been the idea of several of the officials for some time to secure the Boston, and in view of that her owners, the Big Sandy Packet Company, when the boat was hailed out on the ways recently, determined to make extensive repairs both to her hull and under works. Even after the meeting of the Mail Line Directors Monday it was intimated that their plans regarding the Boston had not been changed. For some reason, however, it has been announced finally that the Mail Line will not take the Boston, but will use one of the other boats, presumably the Telegraph. Captain Wise of the Memphis and New Orleans Packet Company, which had the Boston under charter last season, said yesterday that the company will have the use of the boat again this year and will run her to Memphis. The repairs to the Boston will go right along; new boilers will be put on, and she will make the fastest boat in the Memphis trade, and will give the Southern boats a run when she gets in the Mississippi river.

FOUND GUILTY.

A Verdict of First Degree Murder Against Durrant.

For the Murder of Blanche Lamont in the San Francisco Church.

The Jury Were Out Only Twenty-Eight Minutes—But One Vote Was Required—Pacifica Noted and Noted—An Appeal Will Be Taken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Theodore Durrant murdered Blanche Lamont. That was the verdict of the jury in the case Friday afternoon. The jury was out 28 minutes. The verdict was received with a shout of applause from the auditors who packed the courtroom.

The closing scenes of the great trial was full of dramatic interest, pathos and excitement. The district attorney's peroration was an able effort.

The charge of Judge Murphy occupied a little over an hour in the delivery. Before he began it, Gen. Dickinson, Durrant's counsel, formally objected to the portions of Barnes' address abusive in the nature, but the court considered them proper and allowed them to stand.

As soon as the court completed the charge, Dickinson took an exception on the ground that his honor had not read the instructions submitted as the defense had written them. The jury was then given in charge of two deputy sheriffs and conducted to the jury room.

The jury upon reaching the jury room selected Warren Dutton, of their number, for foreman and then the first ballot was for murder in the first degree. Word was immediately sent to the court room and Judge Murphy sent the jury. While this was going on, Durrant in the court room beside his counsel conversing with him and his lady friends as soon as Mrs. Durrant learned that the jury was returning, his demeanor changed from one of grief and a look of dread came to her face which was not relieved in that of our son.

An foreman Dutton pronounced the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, the large audience which had listened in perfect silence for the words which were to utter, rose and uttered a yell which echoed far in the corridors. Most of those in the audience were women, and some which wept from them fell upon the ear of the convicted murderer's mother like a blow, and it seemed to bring the first realization of the force of the words of the jury's foreman. Her face was awestruck as she had nerved herself for the ordeal; she had just received her life, and she was hysterical outburst of sobs. As he listened intently to the words which sealed his fate, Durrant partially arose and said: "The look on your face is one of defiance, and it was apparent that he had it in mind to address the jury. The first cry from his mother was changed to a shriek of agony, and such intention before that. He sat down, turned to his mother, and took her fondly in his arms. She rested her head on his shoulder and his left arm about her slender form, held her in a tender embrace, patting her with his left hand and with his right stroking her hair. The look on his face was one of death to him had been returned, oblivious to everything except the weeping and the shrieks of his mother as he slid through the long trial, cheering him with words of hope. If his display was of nerve it was marvellous, and if of callousness to any but his own sensations, it was equally marvellous.

Judge Murphy announced that next Friday he would pass sentence upon Durrant, and at that time he would fix the time for beginning the trial of Durrant for the murder of Blanche Williams. His attorneys would make appeal to the supreme court on a bill of exceptions, the material for which accumulated during the trial.

An incision was made in the skull and the crushed bone was raised. The animal felt some pain and lashed his tail, but could do no harm. Friday night he seemed to be all right.

Holmes Submits No Testimony in Defense of PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Holmes Friday afternoon was in the city of the jury. When the commonwealth closed its case Friday afternoon his attorneys announced that they considered the prosecution had made out its case and that they would rest their case upon the evidence offered by the commonwealth and submitted by the prisoner. The case was made by Holmes upon the advice of a well-known lawyer who was there some time retained by the prisoner. The case will likely go to the jury Saturday afternoon.

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home"? And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of THE Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could absorb in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.

A NEW PHASE.

England May Have to Declare War With Venezuela.

In This Case the Conditions of the Monroe Doctrine Will Not Apply.

Venezuela May Have to Face England For the Unprovoked Murder of the Owner of a British Schooner—Also for Mistreating English Fishermen.

(Special Correspondence.)

BARBODS, Oct. 25.—The dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela will now assume quite a new phase.

The European power may have to declare war with the South American republic, but not for the present at least upon the boundary question.

It was declared—and it is undoubtedly true—that it will be upon a basis that the conditions of the Monroe doctrine will not apply and Venezuela will have to stand the enemy without the aid of the United States.

It is announced that a commander named Filbert, on board the Venezuelan gunboat Costa, had been shot by Mr. Thos. G. Brown, the British schooner Myosotis, on board that vessel while on a voyage from Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, B. W. L. in a most unprovoked manner.

The main facts of the occurrence have been reported to the administrator at Trinidad, and a report on the same is now on its way to the secretary of state for the colonies and cabinet.

It is generally believed that the murder of Mr. G. Brown is a great mistake in the relations between the two countries, as it will give England an admitted advantage in dealing with Gen. Crispio and his government. England will demand satisfaction for this and other unwarranted outrages on her shipping.

It has been generally conceded in the West Indies that Venezuela was endeavoring to force the issue with Great Britain on the boundary question, but it is today quite generally admitted that the murder of Mr. G. Brown under the circumstances it took place, is the greatest blunder that has yet been perpetrated by Venezuela in her quarrel with England.

The government of Trinidad has been making inquiries into another alleged outrage by Venezuelan officers upon British subjects, and I am in a position to state that the governor of Trinidad has forwarded to the colonial office a report, together with some affidavits from the parties directly interested, showing that three Trinidad fishermen having been captured while making their way to their fishing grounds in British waters off the coast of Trinidad.

The fishermen were taken to Carriacou and committed to jail. After being imprisoned fifteen days they were released. They were then taken to Port-of-Spain and were informed they could not get it and they had better leave Venezuela as quick as possible. The men were then nearly strangled while in prison.

CORBETT'S PERIL.

Had He Assailed Fitzsimmons, He Would Have Been Shot by Joe. Clarke's Order.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 2.—It turns out that Corbett would have been in considerable danger had he assumed a hostile attitude toward Fitzsimmons in the hotel dining room at Little Rock, where he was in charge of Fitzsimmons, said Friday night that he had positive orders from Joe. Clarke to shoot Corbett at the first indication of the latter's intention to assault the Cornishman while in the city.

It is stated that Corbett had been ordered to the latter had the champion made a move to attack Fitzsimmons. Corbett laughed and said he had no intention of fighting any one for fun and reiterated the statement he made several times today, that the Cornishman and himself would Julian put up the necessary $10,000.

ROME SHAKEN.

Eternal City on Its Seven Hills Violently Rocked.

Terrified Inmates of a Prison Revolt and Are Driven Back.

By the Troops at the Point of the Bayonet the Pope Started From His Chambers by the Shocks—Several Prisoners and Buildings Damaged.

ROME, Nov. 2.—This city was visited by a shock of earthquake at 5:40 o'clock Friday morning. People were aroused from their slumbers and fled to the open squares, and the greatest consternation prevailed. The convent of Santa Maria Maggiore was greatly damaged. A portion of the outer wall was overthrown and part of the ceiling has fallen. One of the inmates, a monk, was injured. The shocks were confined to the province of Rome. They were felt strongly at the Castel Romano, but the damage done there was not serious.

The official observatory report of the disturbances says the first manifestation was a slight trembling which lasted about five seconds. These became more violent for a period of eight seconds and then became lighter for nine seconds. Two shocks in the observatory slipped the moment the trembling began, indicating the hour 5:33. The direction of the movements was from north to south. The old tower of the observatory was damaged. The shock created a great panic among the inmates of the prison and a mutiny was attempted by the prisoners. Troops were quickly called to the assistance of the keepers, and in a short time the mutiny was suppressed and order restored.

The pope was awakened by the shocks. He was perfectly calm, and after rising made haste to inquire the news from the city.

Investigation discloses the fact that the damage done by the quakes is high greater than was at first supposed. Four palaces and the Bank of Italy were so shaken that they are rendered unsafe for occupancy. The Palazzo Giustiniani, one of the finest palaces in Rome, and five other structures of that character are also seriously damaged. The building of the ministry of finance was also slightly damaged.

The quakes rang all the bells in the city, and doors were shaken and windows rattled everywhere.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Special dispatches received here from Rome say that two houses collapsed as a result of the earthquake shock Friday morning, and it is reported that several persons were injured. In addition four palaces and the Bank of Italy are said to have been rendered uninhabitable.

The Palazzo Giustiniani and five other palaces are said to be seriously injured. The Vatican buildings, the Quirinal, the main railway station and the ministry of finance building are also reported to have sustained some damage.
